OBJECTIVE

Dedicated graduate student seeking to expand knowledge and experience in the biochemical field.

EDUCATION

University of California, San Francisco Doctorate of Pharmacy, PharmD (In Progress)	San Francisco, CA Expected 2021
University of California, Los Angeles Bachelors of Science, Biochemistry, Magna Cum Laude	Los Angeles, CA June 2017

SKILLS

- Basic experimental techniques in organic synthesis (distillation, extraction, crystallization, and performing reactions)
- Organic analytical chemistry (melting and boiling point, refractive index, chromatography, IR, NMR, GC)
- Single and multistep synthesis of known organic molecules on microscale level
- Analysis with SDS-PAGE and Agarose Gel Electrophoresis and spectroscopy (Infrared, UV-Vis, Mass Spectroscopy)
- Computer programming: C++ (abstract data type definition and use, object-oriented software development, algorithm analysis).

RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

EISENBERG LAB – UCLA BOYER HALL Research Assistant	Los Angeles, CA Feb 2016 – Present
<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Works closely with graduate student to generate a protein deletion in the FUS gene to determine the effects of the segment on aggregation in the gel formation, potentially tying linkages to aggregate borne diseases.• Grows cultures of bacteria and plasmids, performs agarose gel electrophoresis, and purifies the DNA.• Optimizes, set up and analyzes crystallization trays of small peptides. Uses crystals from trays to obtain x-ray diffraction.

WORK EXPERIENCE

UCLA ACADEMIC ADVANCEMENT PROGRAM Peer Learning Facilitator	Los Angeles, CA Oct 2014 – Present
<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Facilitates acquisition of knowledge, advancing studying techniques, and efficient time usage of students.• Prepares personalized lesson plans and adjusts teaching styles to accommodate different learning approaches.• Organizes a group of 12 peers and provides both group oriented and personal attention while hosting tutoring sessions.
Math Supervisor	Mar 2016 – June 2017
<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Hosts and prepares training for the 90 peer learning facilitators (PLFs) in the Academic Advancement Program.• Holds discipline meetings during the quarter in order to update and advise the 20 math PLFs on programs and their sessions.• Coordinates with the other supervisors to organize scheduling for the PLFs weekly sessions and room assignments.

VOLUNTEERS IN MEDICINE OF SOUTHERN NEVADA

Medical Dispensary (Pharmacy) Volunteer	Las Vegas, NV July 2015 – Sept 2015
